Dear Colleagues,

Re: Immunology Laboratory Test Prices

As you may all be aware, in the UK, there has been a continued period of high inflation coupled with the long-standing high energy prices. On top of this, we have not made any significant changes to our repertoire price list since 2018.

As a result of the above, over the past 12 months, we have started to see significant price increases being passed on to the laboratory from our suppliers across our repertoire of testing.

With this in mind, during 2024 we will be increasing our prices across repertoire on average by 7%. There are some that have had to increase by a significantly higher margin, because of the supplier raising their base price by more than this.

If you have any further questions, then please contact me on the email address above.

Yours faithfully

James Hoy
Laboratory Manager
Clinical Lead of Laboratory Immunology
